Come out to play with the Louisville Country Dancers as we celebrate our 7th annual weekend in the wooded hills of southern Indiana. From serene meditation to outdoorsy adventure, O'Bannon Woods State Park has got it covered. And we'll provide the music, dancing, food and lodging, plus campfire camaraderie and lots of fun. So forget your worries at a weekend to remember, Potato Run – the spring-fever cure!

What's in Store:

Friday night, Saturday night, and Sunday contra dancing and sleepovers, with plenty of good food while you're there. Plus there'll be informal play-shops, couple dancing and jam sessions (bring instruments). There's also hiking, caving, canoeing, and much, much more.

The Facilities:

At Potato Run we have:

- A very nice wooden dance floor
- Four spacious 25-person lodges with a half-bath and twin beds (not bunks) with mattresses
- Ear plugs....
- Plenty of free tent sites available
- Modern restrooms & shower house
- Well-equipped kitchen and dining hall
- Fire rings, picnic sites, nature trails, etc.

What to Bring:

A dish for Friday's potluck enhancement of the baked potato bar, bedding, towels, toiletries, soft-soled dance shoes, and musical instruments.

The Sounds:

The Cosmic Otters from Chicago, IL are known for lush driving dance music that is responsive to dancers and grounded in a solid choice of tunes—guaranteed to get every dancer joyful and jumping!

Jonathon Whitall provides the driving fiddle plus foot percussion and wears spectacular pants. Edward Wallace adds juicy harmony fiddle. Meg Dedolph's guitar anchors the band with solid rhythm, tasty chords, and occasional drumming. Eric Schedler's creative, rhythmic piano and melodic accordion boost the already charged sounds.

The Voice:

Charley Harvey's hallmark is excitement and contagious enthusiasm along with clear, concise teaching and calling. Charley, from Charlotte, NC, has a goal of delivering the most fun to the most people possible. Smiles and laughter are definitely on the agenda!

Fun workshops are in the works and will be announced on our website soon...
